Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In line 3 of claim 1 the phrase "between conveyors out of conveyors" is grammatically incorrect and confusing.

In the third line of claim 3 there is lack of antecedent basis for "the attenuation time".

Claims 6 and 8 should depend from claim 5 in order to provide antecedent support for "the target value".

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Helmstetter (U.S. Patent 5,611,418).

Helmstetter shows a plurality of conveyors 12 and 16 for carrying products between a feed unit and a receiving unit wherein at least one expansion conveyor 10 is between the plurality of conveyors.

Re claims 2-4, the speeds of conveyors are inherently controlled and unit 10 is controlled based on the speeds of conveyors 12 and 16.

Claims 5, 6, 8 and 9 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Millington (U.S. Patent 2,932,376) shows an expansion conveyor between conveyors that is run dependent upon the speeds of the conveyors it is between.
